

BRAINY GUARDS

TRAINING

The key personnel of the two levels have undergone re-orientation and an appropriate induction program specially designed to ensure that their professional attitude is fully in line with our mission. For this purpose we have set a special training institute that obtains specialist services of professionals who conduct intensive sessions of re-orientation, refreshing and re-orientation for the purpose of equipping the personnel with the appropriate knowledge relating to crucial aspects of his/her role.

Strict emphasis is laid on training for security duties. Personnel recruited to our Company have to undergo a through in-service training irrespective of their former military ranks. Instructions imparted are both theoretical and practical, covering comprehensively and concept of private and other security related situations. Regular training classes are held where shortcomings in security duties are corrected. Here the personnel are briefed about the current security situation and discussions on the law in relation to security duties such as right of self-defense, citizen's arrest, methods of charging under the penal code, etc. Use of security equipment is explained, practices in fire fighting are held, bomb disposal is described and improvements in security coverage are discussed. These are co-coordinated by experts in the specialized fields. Particular attention is given to the important subject of discipline, integrity and loyalty both during training and afterwards. Qualified instructors with a sound military background handle training.
